Daversa Partners is a retained search firm that recruits technology executives. The goal of the design by StudioPPARK for this 1,300 square foot space in Manhattan is to inject fun and promote collaboration amongst co-workers. Custom Hanging Panels in 105 Rost feature 3/8 inch circle perforations which provide needed visual privacy without completely obstructing light. The panels are arrayed along a sliding track system, and assist in acoustic mitigation while providing a big pop of the company's logo color in the predominately glassy meeting rooms.
