At the recently renovated offices at Insight Global, the design behind each room is a playful nod to the brands the firm represents. A cutting-edge technology solutions company, Insight Global caters to a range of diverse industries, a factor that architectural and design firm Corgan thoughtfully implemented. When designing the office's various meeting rooms, Corgan incorporated an equally diverse range of acoustic wall products, including Gap, Horizontal Bar, and ARO Plank 7. Color selections and custom elements were used to showcase the personality of the brands they represent and add a completely custom aesthetic.
