CNC cut Wool Design Felt was purchased to cover the feature wall in RDIO's remodeled San Francisco headquarters. This music subscription service's lobby features 3mm Design Felt installed for sound abatement. 5 x 36 inch (12.7 x 91.4 centimeter) CNC cut strips in three undyed natural colorways were configured with an irregular patterning. 5mm Design Felt in 170 Asche is also utilized for solid hanging panels behind the reception desk to separate the adjacent lounge area. The company's branding is the inspiration for a custom light feature, and hot-rolled steel is used throughout the workspace.
