Via Art Fund is a non-profit that supports innovative artistic endeavors in various forms, from the production of new work for exhibition and institutional acquisition, educational programs, publications, and scholarly journals. For its headquarters in Boston, Massachusetts, Anmahian Winton Architects reinforces their identity as a sophisticated arts organization with a minimal palette of sleek, natural, and textural materials in the small-scale office space. Matrix Hanging Panels are cut from 100% natural undyed wool felt and installed on FilzFelt's Hanging Panel Track System. The refined yet playfully patterned panels add softness, dramatic patterning, and much needed flexibility in the space.
